FTP (File Transfer Protocol) is a communication protocol for moving filesÂ· .South Africa's central bank says the country's central bank is probing allegations of insider trading in local currency funding for the $6 billion (4.7 billion euro) investment bank Standard Bank. The bank says more than 90 employees traded in Standard Bank shares in the period from August 2012 to October 2015. The trading on insider information has been referred to prosecutors. South African banks are taking huge foreign currency loans to fund purchases of US and European government and corporate bonds. The new bonds are an attempt to help South Africa pay its way out of decades of authoritarian rule and a period of recession. The US dollar fell on Wednesday after the European Central Bank cut its growth forecast. The ECB also cut its estimate for the growth of the eurozone economy in the second quarter to 0.5%. The bank now sees the eurozone economy's expansion falling to 0.2% in the third quarter from a previous forecast of 0.3%. The South African Financial Services Board says it is investigating the trades because they may have been carried out to profit from the significant rise in the value of the South African currency in the run-up to the announcement of the new bonds. South Africa's central bank has named Mokoena and four other bank officials in its court papers. It is alleged that Mokoena received information about the announcement of the new bonds from another Standard Bank official who was part of the process, who was suspended from the bank last year. The bank says it has appointed global law firm Herbert Smith Freehills to conduct a review of its findings. South Africa's former finance minister Trevor Manuel - now finance minister - has asked the courts to ban the Times from publishing further articles about the investigation. The newspaper has filed an urgent application with the Pretoria High Court to have the ban temporarily lifted. South Africa is still nursing the effects of its 19-year national liberation struggle, and a severe recession marked by the collapse of its
